Weekly Summary

Compared to last week's market, feeder steers and heifers weight class averages ended firm on the heavier classes and $4 to $6 higher on the mid-weight and lighter classes. Both the slaughter cows and bulls held firm also with last week's figures.

Indications of good meat clearance at the meat counters continues to show higher meat prices have yet to show any form of consumer resistance. Today's board closing showed very healthy gains on both the feeder and live cattle. Buyer demand and interest were strong here today on all classes of feeder calves.

COMMENTS

A very snappy market here after the 4th holiday. Stock cows had friends everywhere as the summer rains are keeping the grass green. Calves and yearlings are 5 to 10 higher than before the break, if we can just maintain this market through the fall we will surpass anything like we have ever seen before! We appreciate everyone and look forward to getting back to business after a break in pace!
